Diplomats Honor Water Researchers Launching LIVE H2O

Laguna Beach, CA--A gala event honoring Japanese water researcher, Dr. Masaru Emoto, will be hosted here in advance of LIVE H2O--Concert for the Living Water. The night of festivities will feature diplomats, artists, scientists, and music-makers celebrating the humanitarian doctor's amazing Water discoveries.

The Laguna event will begin a global multi-media Summer Solstice celebration streaming lectures, multi-cultural and musical performances, and spiritual services including prayers and chants over the Internet; interactively engaging more than thirty waterfront locations including Long Beach, Southern California's host city.

Engaging music lovers, Grammy Award winners, and holy persons from around the world, LIVE H2O was conceived by Dr. Leonard Horowitz, a public health expert who has heralded Dr. Emoto's discoveries widely, promoting several bestselling "paradigm shifting" books in the process, including The Message in Water (Hado, 2003) and LOVE the Real da Vinci CODE (Tetrahedron, 2007). The doctors' controversial findings suggest that Water responds structurally to heart-felt loving intention, chants, and prayers. Their works have been featured in several films and media interviews that are making waves in the worlds of music, mathematics, medicine, education, anthropology and theology.

"It is truly amazing how water responds energetically to prayer and how it can be influenced musically within and around us," Dr. Horowitz says. Quoting Dr. Emoto, "the message in Water is "LOVE thyself."

The creative arts gala, including a lecture and book signing by Dr. Emoto, will raise funds for schools and hospitals in war torn Afghanistan. The event is being organized by Sadiq Tawfiq, at his Kyberpass art gallery, 1970 S. Pacific Coast Highway in Laguna Beach. The creative arts evening, dinner, with formal awards and presentations by Japanese and Afghani diplomats, begins at 6 PM on Thursday, June 18th. A $30 per person donation is requested, and space is limited so come early.

"It has been an exciting pleasure getting to know Drs. Horowitz and Emoto," says Mr. Tawfiq. "Everyone can relate to the power of LOVE and the importance of Water in our daily lives. These doctors bring these two subjects together in a most profound and spiritually uplifting way. At a time when people of all nations need good news, these doctors are beacons of light proving how we can remedy every urgency on earth with Water and LOVE."
